Redefining Home Care with Routinify

Routinify's WellAssist™ platform offers homecare agencies an opportunity to provide a client-focused solution for professional caregivers. Our platform is data-driven; we do this by integrating our platform with common wearables so basic vitals including oxygen saturation, sleep patterns, heart rate, and steps, are monitored and measured in real-time.

With Routinify, our homecare partners are able to anticipate, monitor, and react quickly and efficiently to client needs.

Integrating Technology for Operational Efficiency

Our WellAssist™ platform is one of the key tools in the modern professional caregivers' tool kit. Our full-scale solution delivers value for you and your clients, allowing you to elevate your level of care while also increasing revenue for your business.

We can help you do that by:

- Onboarding new clients with a remote care option
- Growing your average client retention rates
- Providing a preventative wellness tool that elevates your care delivery
- Providing smoother transitions between shifts, resulting in operational efficiency
- Empowering you with data to monitor and measure care delivery and patient wellness over time
- Providing peace of mind to families, knowing that there's an extra layer of remote care and oversight
